IN THE NEWS

Aurora Boys Wounded

The Toronto Star

Friday, April 19, 1918

AURORA BOYS OF THE 127TH, WOUNDED.	Sapper W. A. Westbeart of the Aurora company of the 127th has also been reported as wounded. Before enlisting he was employed at the T. Sisman Shoe Co.
A great deal of anxiety and distress has been caused the parents and friends of Sapper Chas. G. Brooks and Sapper Roy Wells, by the reports in Saturday's Toronto papers that these young men had been killed in action in France, when such was not the case.	Lieut.-Cpl. T. H. Bovair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bovair, of King Township, has been reported wounded. The official notification to his parents states that he was admitted to No. 6 hospital, France, on April 1st suffering from gunshot wound in the side. A later cable from a private source states that the wound is not dangerous and he is progressing favorably. Lieut. Corpl. Bovair enlisted with the King platoon of the 127th Battn.
Sapper Brooks' parents received word on Friday that their son, Charles Gilbert, had been admitted to No. 9 General hospital, Rouen, on March 21st, suffering from gunshot wound in right leg. Sapper Brooks, along with his brother, Lieut.-Cpl. Geo. Brookes enlisted in December, 1915, with the Aurora company of the 127th Battalion, crossed to England in Aug. 1916, and landed in France in January, 1917. He was born at Hackney, London, England, coming to Canada when a lad. He was 20 years of age.	Word was received here on Thursday evening that Sergt. A. J. Vincent, was officially reported as missing since March 24th. Sergt. Vincent enlisted with the Aurora company of the 127th and had charge of the bugle band of the battalion. After going to France he has been acting as despatch rider. His wife and two children reside with Mrs. Vincent's mother, Mrs. Hodgins of Temperance Street.
Sapper W. A. Westbeart of former resident of King Township, where his mother and brother at present reside. So far as can be learned they have received no notification of his being wounded. He enlisted in the West and was transferred to the 127th Battalion.
